

31 DAYS OF INK

Each October, artists around the world participate in the 'Inktober' challenge. Each day, an artist makes a piece of art with ink media, including everything from drawing pens to sumi.

Michael Gehrke and Jessie Pautsch are American artists who live and work in Shirakawa. Michael is an illustrator and ALT in the school district, while Jessie is a printmaker who works from their home. Michael's theme is "characters for an urban fantasy", where he imagines and designs people who you might find in a book or movie.

Jessie's series is based on the natural world of Japan. She loves to be outside and discover new birds, plants, and insects.
